Summary Profile

I hold an MBA(Accounting), Deakin University Australia and a Bachelor of Commerce Degree (Accounting option) Second Class upper, University of Nairobi.

I am a member of Institute of Certified Public Accountant of Kenya, a member of Chartered Global Management Accountants of England and Wales, an ISO 9001:2008 lead Auditor and a senior tax advisor.

I am CEO and Founder of Tax world Africa, a tax consulting firm and the Managing Partner of Wycliffe Majengo & Associates, An Audit firm.

I was part of the Founders of ICPAK Western branch, the first vice chairman and Second Chairman ICPAK Western Branch.

During my tenure as the Western Branch Chair, I championed my members to start a program of mentorship to schools as an annual event in Western that has become very successful to not only western but across all branches of ICPAK in Kenya.

I also Served as a member of Tax and Budget Sub-Committee of ICPAK during the time where we had to resolve a pending crisis between Kenya Revenue Authority and Stock brokers on introduction of capital gain tax on shares. Through our initiative, ICPAK secured a grant that assisted in training to resolve the issue.

It is during my time on the committee that we negotiated with Kenya Revenue Authority to have an Alternative Dispute Resolution section to resolve tax matters.

I was elected as the chairman of Kenya National Chamber of Commerce and Industry County of Kakamega and a member of Legal and Tax committee, Kenya National Chamber of Commerce and Industry at National level.

Have experience in Kenyan tax code, South Africa tax code, India tax code, USA tax code, UK tax code, European Tax code and Hong Kong tax codes.

I also served as a member of the Infrastructure, specifically during the CPA centre project. Within the 1 year on the committee, the project was able to be completed and officially launched.

I had to come up with the slogan “The boing 777 project” to make all realize the importance of the project in relation to heavy investment and reputation for the institute.

I also come with a wealth of experience in the Council as a facilitator. I have facilitated many ICPAK tax trainings, CIMA trainings in tax and rolling forecast and also as a tax mentor and trainer in Kenya and Africa.

I hold the position of Head of Planning and Project Friends World Committee for Consultation Africa Section.
